

EIM China

Dr. Junshi Chen

National Center Director

Dr. Junshi Chen

Affiliation

International Life Sciences Institute
(ILSI) Focal Point in China

National Center Manager

Mr. Zhengxiong Yang

Host Institution – ILSI Focal Point China

ILSI Focal Point China has made significant contributions to the promotion of cooperation and scientific information exchange between Chinese and global academic communities in the field of nutrition and food safety. All the activities of the ILSI Focal Point in China are well-targeted to the major country-specific public health issues and the emerging problems in nutrition and food safety in China.

National Center Advisory Board Professional Affiliation

Junshi Chen	International Life Sciences Institute Focal Point in China
Wenhua Zhao	Chinese Center for Disease Control and Prevention
Dayi Hu	Peking University People's Hospital
Yong Huo	Peking University People's Hospital
Ye Tian	China Institute of Sport Science
Keji Li	Peking University Health Science Center
Xiaofeng Liang	Chinese Center for Disease Control and Prevention
Weiping Jia	Shanghai People's Hospital
Yang Hu	Beijing Sport University
Guoyong Liu	General Administration of Sport China

Past Accomplishments

- Have conducted training workshops for more than 1000 physicians and healthcare professionals across China
- Annually host a “Conference on Physical Activity and Health” that features EIM
- Initiated EIM on Campus programs on university campuses across China

2017 Goals

- Promote the EIM Solution to healthcare systems in China
- Continue offering EIM training courses to physicians and healthcare professionals
- To develop a network of EIM trained exercise professionals.
- Form an official partnership with government officials in the General Administration of Sport of China and in the Family Planning Commission